WELCOME TO

The Timberlodge

Welcome to a place where architectural craftsmanship and natural beauty exist in perfect harmony. Built in 2004, The Timberlodge was thoughtfully designed with traditional post-and-beam construction, handcrafted mortise-and-tenon joinery, and warm wood details that create a setting both refined and inviting.

Surrounded by rolling greens, multiple tranquil ponds, and lush gardens, the grounds evoke the romance of a Tuscan countryside retreat. Italian cypress–inspired silhouettes, natural stone details, and a romantic gazebo resting at the water's edge create a quietly cinematic backdrop where every view feels intentional.

Here, celebrations unfold effortlessly. Sunlight filters through expansive windows by day, candlelight glows against wood and glass by night, and moments flow naturally from waterside vows to garden cocktail hours and intimate evenings shared with the people who matter most. At the heart of it all is white-glove hospitality. Our dedicated wedding team ensures every detail is seamlessly cared for, allowing your story to take center stage.

The Timberlodge is where storybook surroundings meet thoughtful design—timeless, immersive, and unmistakably its own.

TOP WEDDING TRENDS

Whimsical Gardens & Wooded Outdoor Ceremonies secluded and rooted in nature. This trend comes to life at The Timberlodge Willow Tree ceremony space, nestled within matured gardens that feel established and organic rather than styled for the moment. The natural canopy, filtered light, and surrounding greenery create an intimate setting that feels quietly magical and deeply personal.

The boardwalk offers a tucked-away retreat for private vows - a serene, secluded space designed for couples who want a meaningful pause

For couples that love nature this trend favors space that feels discovered, not constructed - where gardens have grown over time and moments unfold naturally.

Drapery mixed with floral deisgn is redefining how couples frame their wedding spaces - adding movement, texture, and a sense of romance without overwhelming the room. This trend feels especially natural, blending flowing fabrics with organic florals to enhance our venue's warm wood tones and open-air feeling.

Whether softly framing an entryway, or suspended overhead with greenery and blooms, drapery brings an etherial softness that balances structured florals beautifully.

This trend is all about couples that like contrast: tailored fabric meeting natural movement, florals softened by light and flow.

TOP WEDDING TRENDS

Guest experiences & interactive moments are becoming a defining element of Timberlodge weddings - thoughtful touches that invite guests to engage, explore, and truly enjoy the day.

Our oversized lawn chess has become a favorite during cocktail hour, offering a playful focul point that naturally draws guests together while encouraging movement and conversation. These moments transform transitions into experiences, keeping energy flowing while guests soak in the scenery.

Thoughtful, interactive details create connection, spark joy, and leave a lasting impression long after the day ends.

Elevated interactive stations are taking center stage, with dinner becoming an expereince guests explore rather than a ssingle seated moment. Couples are leaning into chef-driven stations that feel abundant, social and intentionally designed.

From creamy burrata bars layered with seasonal accompaniments to hand-tossed pasta finished in a parmesean wheel these stations bring motion and artistry into the meal itself. Crown favorites like ramen stations, Aegean mezze, and tapas-style displays invite guests to sample, savor, and return for more - turning dinner into a shared experience rather than a fixed course.

This trend cerats variety, interaction, and culinary storytelling. With the flexiblity to mix and match stations- and so much more beyond the menu highlights - elevated dinner experiences feel immersive, indulgent and effortlessly memorable.

TOP WEDDING TRENDS

Investing in the venue - rather than over-spending on centerpieces - is becoming a defining mindset for modern couples. More than ever, couples are prioritizing spaces that already offer beauty, flow, and functionality, choosing venues that don't require layers of decor to feel complete.

At The Timberlodge, the architecture, matured grounds, and thoughtfully designed spaces do the heavy lifting. From warm wood intereiors and expansive views to curated furnishings and seamless indoor-outdoor transitions, the venue itself becomes the backdrop - elimating the need for over-styled tablescapes or excessive rentals.

This trend is about spending sparter, not less. Couples are investing in a setting that feels intentional from the start - one that supports the entire day beautifully, effortlessly, and without the pressure to decorate every inch.

At the heart of these trends is a shared desire for weddings that feel thoughtful, immersive, and true to the couple hosting them. From whimsical outdoor ceremonies and interactive guest moments to elevated dining expereinces and intentional venue choices, today's Timberlodge couples are focusing on how the day feels - not just how it looks. These trends reflect a shift toward meaning, flow, and experience, creating celebrations that are relaxed yet refined, memorable yet deeply personal.

ALEXANDRA & MATTHEW

Alexandra and Matthew knew The Timberlodge was their dream venue the moment they experienced its effortless blend of indoor warmth and outdoor beauty - perfectly suited for a fall celebration. Alexandra first discovered The Timberlodge online and booked a tour with just her mom and aunt, instantly feeling that unmistakable this is it moment as they walked beneath the willow trees and into the soaring timber-frame space. Surrounded by open skies, warm wood tones, and expansive grounds, she could immediately envision their day unfolding there.

Even though Matthew wasn't present for that first visit, he trusted her completely - confident she would choose a place that reflected their shared vision. When he later stood beneath the exposed beams and looked out across the willow-lined property himself, he understood. The seamless connection between nature and gathering spaces, the quiet tucked-away corners, and the softly glowing interiors made every transition feel natural and unhurried. The Timberlodge wasn't just a venue - it was the setting that allowed their celebration to feel grounded, romantic, and unmistakably personal.

ABOUT THE CUSINE

From the very first pour to the final late-night bite, the evening was designed as a layered culinary experience that unfolded effortlessly throughout the celebration — all thoughtfully crafted and prepared by The Timberlodge's in-house culinary team. Cocktail hour set the tone with an abundant Butchers Board Grazing Table, inviting guests to mingle over artisan cheeses, cured meats, and thoughtfully curated accompaniments.

Taking center stage at the bar were two signature cocktails that immediately became conversation pieces — the bright "Vivi-Rita Margarita" and the smooth "Luffy Whiskey Sour," named after their cats. Together, they brought personality and playful charm to the evening.

Dinner embraced rich, comforting flavors elevated with thoughtful detail. Braised chuck roast offered deep, slow-simmered richness, paired with heritage pork carved to perfection. Crispy sea salt smashed potatoes and aged cheddar mac & cheese added indulgent warmth, while oven-roasted broccolini with toasted garlic brought balance and brightness to the plate. The result was a refined yet inviting menu that felt perfectly suited to a cozy fall celebration at The Timberlodge.

For dessert, the couple shared a cranberry orange cake for their ceremonial cut, alongside an abundant cupcake display for guests to enjoy.

As the evening continued, late-night stations brought playful energy with a fire-roasted s'mores bar at the fire pit, hot pretzels, a tater tot and french fry bar, and a flatbread pizza station — the perfect finale to a night filled with warmth, flavor, and celebration.

FRIDAY & SUNDAY WEDDINGS

Friday and Sunday weddings are quickly becoming the chic, strategic choice for couples who want the full celebration without the constraints of a traditional Saturday.

These alternative dates open the door to greater flexibility. More availability with top tier vendors, smoother planning timelines and the ability to secure your dream venue during peak season. Budget-savvy couples also love the added value these dates can bring, often allowing for upgraded experiences or extra weekend events.

Fridays create a celebratory kick off, inviting guests to start their weekend with intention and excitement. They leave ample time for post-wedding brunches, golf outings, and extended celebrations that turn a single day into a full experience.

Sundays, on the other hand, carry a relaxed celebratory vibe that transitions beautifully into the evening. The dance floor stays packed, the atmosphere feels intentionally festive and the entire event takes on a warm, unhurried rhythm.

Both Sundays and Fridays give couples more freedom, dream team vendors, and a celebration that feels intentionally curated rather than constrained by tradition. They deliver the same unforgettable experience as a Saturday wedding, just with added flexibility, value and a vibe all their own.

BRIDAL TRENDS THAT ARE REDEFINING "TIMELESS"

Bridal fashion is experiencing a refined return to romance — one where timeless elements are thoughtfully reimagined through a modern, fashion-forward lens. It's not about excess or embellishment for embellishment's sake, but about intentional details that feel personal, expressive, and deeply romantic. Accessories are no longer an afterthought; they are the moment.

GLOVES: A GESTURE OF GRACE

Gloves are redefining bridal elegance with a renewed sense of purpose. From opera-length satin to fine lace and airy tulle, they introduce an element of ceremony that instantly elevates a look. Paired with sleek silhouettes or dramatic skirts, gloves add a quiet sophistication — a reminder that sometimes the most striking statements are the most restrained.

FLORAL APPLIQUÉ: WHEN FLORALS BECOME FASHION

Bridal florals are moving beyond bouquets and into the gown itself. Three-dimensional floral appliqués, soft rosettes, and sculptural petal details are adding depth and movement to modern bridal looks. Whether scattered delicately across sheer sleeves or cascading down a skirt, these textural florals feel romantic and organic — a natural extension of the garden-inspired weddings brides are gravitating toward. The effect is soft, dimensional, and unmistakably couture.

SOFT DRAMA: OVERSKIRTS & DETACHABLE DETAILS

Versatility is defining bridal fashion, with detachable elements allowing brides to transform their look throughout the day. Overskirts, removable trains, and dramatic toppers offer the best of both worlds — ceremony-worthy drama paired with reception-ready ease. These layered pieces create movement, volume, and a sense of occasion, while giving brides the freedom to evolve their look without sacrificing style or intention.

ETHEREAL LAYERS: MOVEMENT & MAGIC

Soft tulles, airy overlays and weightless fabrics bring a sense of motion and dreamlike romance, allowing gowns to feel fluid, feminine and almost otherworldy as they move.

THE NEW BRIDAL VOCABULARY: BOLD YET POISED

What ties these trends togteher is a sense of softness and intention. Gloves introduce refined elegance, floral applique brings organic texture, ethereal layers add movement and light, and soft drama creates moments of quiet impact. Together, these elements reflect a modern approach to bridal fashion - romantic without excess, expressive without being overstated.

THE HONEYMOON EDIT

Much like a Timberlodge wedding, honeymoons are defined by feeling rather than flash. They invite couples to slow down, breathe deeply, and begin their marriage surrounded by landscapes that feel lasting and meaningful. Wherever the journey leads, the destination is the same: presence, connection, and a love story written into the world around you.

ICELAND

Iceland is for couples who find romance in the untamed. This is a honeymoon shaped by contrast — fire and ice, stillness and motion, solitude and awe. Days unfold beside cascading waterfalls, along black-sand beaches, and through lava fields that feel almost otherworldly. Evenings are spent soaking in geothermal lagoons, wrapped in steam beneath open skies, or tucked into candlelit inns where the world feels far away. And then, if the timing is right, the Northern Lights arrive — a quiet, breathtaking reminder that some moments can't be planned, only felt. Iceland's beauty is powerful yet grounding, creating space for reflection, awe, and a deep sense of togetherness.

BANFF NATIONAL PARK

Banff is dramatic without being overwhelming — grand mountain vistas softened by evergreen forests and tranquil lakes. Days can be as adventurous or as relaxed as you choose, from scenic hikes and gondola rides to quiet mornings watching mist rise off turquoise water. What truly defines Banff, though, is the way evenings unfold: warm lodge interiors, fireside cocktails, and long dinners that feel both celebratory and comforting. It's a destination that feels polished yet deeply rooted in nature, perfect for couples who crave balance.

NEW ZEALAND

New Zealand feels like several honeymoons in one. Rolling hills, dramatic fjords, serene lakes, and coastal views create a journey that is both expansive and personal. Couples can pair adventure — hiking, sailing, scenic drives — with moments of quiet luxury in remote lodges or vineyard retreats. There's a sense of freedom here, a feeling that the days stretch wide open, inviting exploration without pressure. It's ideal for Timberlodge couples who want their honeymoon to feel rich, varied, and deeply immersive.

PORTUGAL

Portugal's romance lies in its effortless charm. Life moves a little slower here, encouraging couples to linger — over wine, over meals, over views of the sea. From the rolling vineyards of the Douro Valley to the sunlit cliffs of the Algarve, the country offers beauty that feels welcoming rather than grandiose. Evenings glow with candlelight and conversation, while days unfold gently, filled with discovery and ease. Portugal is perfect for couples who value atmosphere, authenticity, and a sense of warmth in every moment.

ITALY

Italy invites couples to wander — through vineyard-covered hills in Tuscany, along cliffside paths of the Amalfi Coast, or beside the serene waters of Lake Como. Hiking here feels layered with history and beauty: cobblestone streets, ancient ruins, olive groves, and coastal vistas unfolding at every turn. Days are filled with exploration and sensory richness — fresh bread, local wine, golden sunsets — while nights glow with candlelight and conversation. Italy offers adventure softened by indulgence, where romance feels effortless and deeply rooted in tradition.

THE ADIRONDACKS

To the couples who love hiking, who feel most alive on a winding trail with fresh air in their lungs and nothing but time ahead of them — this honeymoon edit is for you. Timberlodge couples are drawn to landscapes that feel grounding and expansive, places where romance unfolds naturally through shared adventure, quiet moments, and immersive scenery. These destinations celebrate movement, stillness, and the beauty of beginning married life surrounded by nature.

MARIAH & CHRISTOPHER

"The venue itself was even better than we had imagined it. Everything was in place, the staff were courteous, helpful, and even stopped to congratulate us and made us feel as if it were the best wedding they had ever seen. "

LAUREN & CODY

"The White Glove Concierge Experience definitely helps alleviate any anxious feelings you may have, because they give you options of all of their decorations, and even set up any decoration you may bring in. They made sure we were taken care of all night, and even made sure the entire wedding party had drinks before the bar closed for dinner. Little details like that made them stand out and really make us feel so special."

MADELINE & BISHOY

"The Timberlodge is the BEST VENUE EVER. No detail was missed. The venue itself is stunning and so inherently beautiful. That was important to me as I was not interested in doing crazy florals/decorations. Not to mention, they have their own stock of decorations for use! The venue made it so easy to cerate such an aesthetic event"

ALYSSA & MIKE

"We had a winter wedding at The Timberlodge and let me just say, from the moment my mother and I toured the venue, we fell in love! The venue is absolutely stunning with high vault ceilings, beautiful wooden everything, gorgeous chandeliers, and the beautiful wooden tables! If you're looking for a beautiful venue, look no further, you found it! You don't need a lot of decor. Let the venue speak for itself!"
